Washington-Solder, Statesman

DIVINE PROVIDENCE, it seems, meets every great emergency with a man greater than the need for which he seems preeminently fitted. In every time when the nation seems to be upon the verge of chaos some great soul arises with a vision so keen, with executive ability so great that it seems as though he must be possessed of those qualities for the express purpose of guiding the affairs of his nation or his race. It is seldom, however, that one great leader will have the versatility of character to save his nation under conditions so different as the field of battle and the statesman's chair. This was, however, the opportunity of George Washington, and how well he filled both places everlasting history bears testimony.

Unlike Lincoln, whose birthday we celebrated last week, Washington was born to wealth. In the small public affairs of his community he took an active interest, but neither of these circumstances pointed Washington out from among hundreds of other colonial gentlemen. Yet when the time of need came, Washington was at once recognized as the leader; a recognition spontaneous and almost unanimous.

So Washington, the soldier leads his country through a victorious campaign which must have seemed to the ragged colonial army a hopeless struggle; enduring:

"Many a grim and haggard day,
Many a night of starless sky."

The war is over, the battle flags are furled and stored in the archives of the nation. Once more the call is for a leader. But this time not a soldier, not a military strategist, but a man of peace, a builder, a statesman. And once more Washington is carried, as though by irresistible karmic law to the fore. The general becomes the president—the musket is laid aside for the mightier weapon of peace, and the man whose executive ability had brought this nation into being, now was instrumental in bringing order from chaos, and placed the United States of America on the map, a nation born full-fledged as Minerva from the brain of Zeus.

A nation fused in the crucible of revolution, welded into a homogeneous whole on the anvil of Washington and tempered by the wise leadership of a Lincoln, can not but flourish while the memory of these great leaders is kept green in the public mind and their wisdom allowed to dominate the deliberations of state.

Putting It On A Shelf

It takes longer to write the history of a war than to fight it. Many hold that the real history of the Civil War has not yet been written. Soldiers are busy with a present war, while historians are writing about previous wars.

Under Dr. Shotwell, of the Carnegie Peace Foundation, which supplied the funds, two hundred experts of all the belligerent nations are preparing a history of the World War in 150 volumes, not to mention ten volumes of conclusions and comparisons. That will take a long shelf, but it was a big war.

Who will ever read all these volumes? The idea is a reference to every detail for future generations. It is good to have the material accessible. Yet, how many of the millions of human beings whose joint action starts war will ever look up the references?

Humanity moves fast. Conditions will probably change as fast in coming years as they did between the Civil and World Wars. The Carnegie history will be a triumph of colossal industry. It gives many scholars employment. But worth more in developing in humanity the wisdom and toleration which prevent war is carrying through to the coming generations the terrible lesson of war's cost as realized by each man who fought in the last war whether he was scholarly or not.—Legion Weekly.

SAN MATEO BURGLAR ENTERS GUILTY PLEA

Gilbert Bonafe arrested in San Francisco at the request of Chief of Police Harper of San Mateo, appeared in the court of Justice of the Peace Ray Griffin on Tuesday and entered a plea of guilty to charges of having burglarized the home of Leon Dentragnies of San Mateo. Bonafe entered his plea of guilty without any examination from District Attorney Swart, who prosecuted the case.

When arrested Bonafe admitted his guilt and took the police to a pawn shop near the waterfront in San Francisco, where loot from the San Mateo home had been disposed of. He is the second man being held for this offense. A third said to have had a part in the robbery is now being sought by the police.

AGED GARDENER DIES FROM HEART ATTACK

John Bartol, a gardener employed at the Alexander Sanatorium at Belmont for the past four years, passed away suddenly at his room at that institution Monday as the result of a heart attack. Bartol was a native of Austria and was 74 years of age. He has no relatives so far as can be ascertained.

An inquest was held on Tuesday at the parlors of Lays and Tinney by Coroner W. A. Brooke when it was found that the aged man had come to his death by natural causes. His body was interred in Union cemetery.

EXILED BURGLAR RETURNS, CAUGHT, NOW SERVING TIME

When Arthur Commiskey was instructed to leave this county and not to return, after he had been arrested for assault with a deadly weapon, he did not realize how good and sound was the advice given him by Justice of the Peace Ray Griffin. Commiskey returned and was arrested last week for burglarizing a home in Bolle Monti.

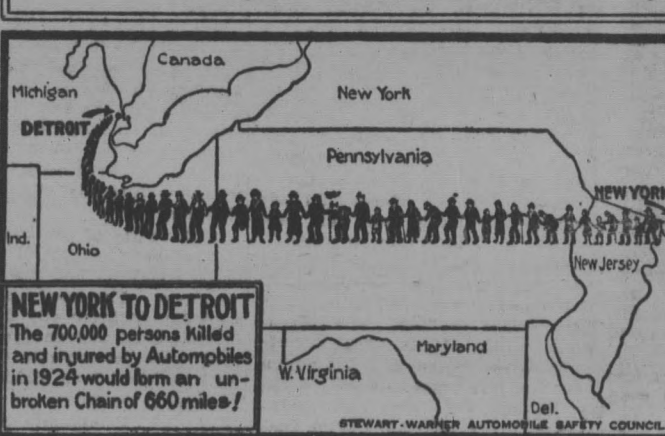

Commiskey pleaded guilty to the offense and was sentenced on Saturday morning by Judge Buck to a term in San Quentin. He is now serving his time across the bay.

DUNDON WILL FILE

Mary L. Buckley of Menlo Park, through her attorney, Daniel A. Ryan of San Francisco, has filed the last will and testament of her mother, Mrs. Margaret Dundon, who passed away in Menlo Park, February 15th, 1926. The will was executed at Menlo Park on January 21, 1922, and is in her own handwriting. The instrument is brief and to the point and is as follows:

"This is my last will. I give all I possess to my daughter, Mrs. Mary L. Buckley, appoint her executrix of my estate. I intentionally leave out my daughter, Elizabeth Stafford. MARGARET DUNDON. Mrs. Buckley has applied for letters testamentary under the terms of the will. The petition does not state the value of the estate except that it is in excess of $10,000. It is said to be worth upwards of $150,000. The hearing on petition for the probate of the will has been set for March 11th.

Caravan of Death 660 Miles Long Is Nation's Auto Story

A CARAVAN of death and suffering 660 miles long is what the annual automobile casualties of the United States would form if placed in one continuous line. From New York to Detroit, painful mile on painful mile, this ghastly and pathetic human chain would reach. This graphic picture, prepared by the Stewart-Warner Safety Council for the prevention of automobile accidents, tells its own story. Twenty-two thousand killed annually by automobiles and 860,000 injured is the present toll caused by thoughtless drivers and careless pedestrians. Only a small per cent of the accidents are due to defects in the cars or can rightly be called unavoidable.

SHOWS PATHOS OF AGE APPEARING YOUNG

Into one scene of "The Auction Block," which will be shown at the Sequoia Theatre next Thursday and Friday, February 25-26, Director Hobart Henley has crowded several of the world's greatest tragedies.

The scene shows Charles Ray as a popular young show salesman, try to sell Polly Moran a pair of slippers about two sizes too small for her. The fact that the scene is so amazingly funny reveals the old adage that people laugh at life's greatest tragedies.

Here is a middle-aged woman trying her best to look young, even at the expense of physical torture, declares Henley, "a tragedy that thousands of women are going through daily. But perhaps the greatest tragedy of all is the fact that the young show salesman, knowing that the next shoe he is to sell is a pair of slippers, purposely sells her the shoes, displaying all of youth's contempt for age."

Eleanor Boardman is featured opposite Charles Ray in this Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production and Sally O'Neill, Ernest Gillen, James Corrigan, Charles Gray, David Torrence, Forrest Seabury and Ned Sparks are in the cast. The story was adapted to the screen by Frederic and Fanny Hatton from the famous novel by Rex Beach.

PATHOS AND COMEDY

In "The Gold Rush," called Charlie Chaplin's greatest comedy, and coming to the Sequoia Theatre, Monday, Tuesday, 23, and 24, with a Matinee on Wednesday, February 25, and 26, with a Matinee on Thursday, February 27, under a United Artists Corporation release, the world's most famous comedian is seen as a pathetic tenderfoot (struggling along with hundreds of others) in search of gold in the Klondike.

Poetic pathos and whimsical comedy are cleverly blended in this film. There is one scene in which Charlie, a bedraggled bit of humanity, finds a sympathizer and sweetheart—a girl in a dance hall. She dances with the little tramp who has been over him a wealthy miner.

There is Jim McKay, a giant as strong as an ox. McKay is an enraged and Charlie trembles as the big man thinks after all that death is better than the loss of the queen of the dance hall.

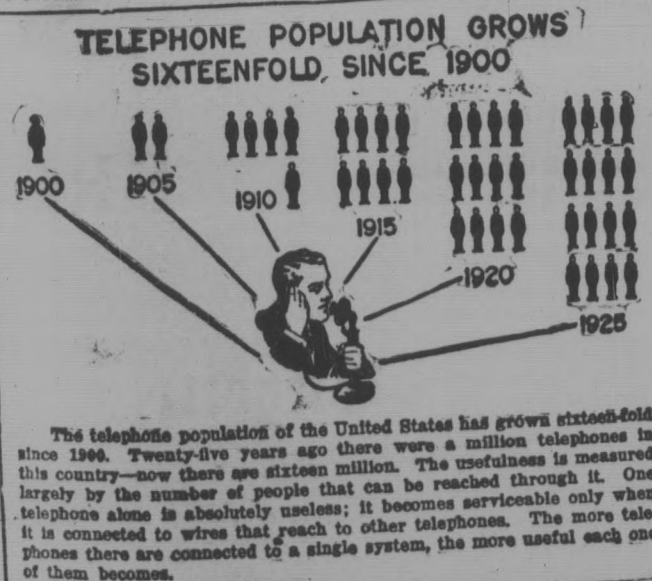

To have the right types in Truckee in Northern California, where many scenes of this picture were produced, Chaplin took out a special trainload of hoboes with well-seared countenances and tattered clothes.

In several passages there seems an endless line of ragged humanity that is crossing the Chilkoot Pass. A blizzard rages and men are blown about helplessly. They fight on doggedly, as this winding path cut through the snows over a precipitous mountainside, is the gateway to their goal, the Klondike.

Then in another stretch there is Black Larsen, who lives in terror at the police. He builds a hut as a hermit amid snow and ice. To this hut comes the pathetic Chaplin. He plodding along to the land of gold, Larsen does not care who starves, as he is not going to take any chances of the police apprehending him.

The scenes aboard a big steamship are full of human interest. The luxury and comfort of the misery, want and sickness in the steerage. There is the little man, who a few years before went on the long hike to the Klondike, and who now aboard the great vessel, is seen wrapped in ecstasy. He is unhappy because he has lost his girl. But in the steerage there is a girl returning home from Alaska wishing she could find her dear little tramp again.

One Death Per 1000 Autos in a Year Is Record of U. S.

1 Person is Killed and 28 Injured annually for every 1000 Automobiles in this Country

ONE out of a thousand is the relationship between the annual automobile fatalities and the number of motor vehicles in this country, according to the Stewart-Warner Safety Council for the prevention of automobile accidents, which has undertaken a strenuous campaign of automobile safety and accident prevention.

And for every fatality there are at least 28 accidents serious enough to get on record. This does not take into consideration minor sprains and bruises or people suffering from nervous shock as the result of being in an automobile accident.

To appreciate what a vast army of killed and injured is annually conscripted by the reckless motorist and careless pedestrian, a comparison may be made with American casualties in the great war. Over a third as many people are killed annually by the automobile as there were American soldiers killed on the field of battle during the entire war, while the number injured each year is nearly three times as great as the number of our boys who were wounded throughout the war.

NEWS OF MENLO PARK

Next Monday the board of supervisors will set April 12 as the time for voting for incorporation. All municipal elections in the county will take place on that date. A full ticket for officers of the proposed city of the sixth class. The campaign will start in earnest very soon. Many candidates are spoken of who will make the campaign. It should be a lively contest.

The card game given in Duff and Doyle hall last Tuesday evening drew a large crowd, there being fifty tables occupied. The Native Sons and Daughters, under whose auspices the game was given, wish to thank the merchants for the many valuable prizes given. The proceeds went to the Homeless Children's Fund of the order.

Real estate men are preparing for the big spring rush anticipated by all property owners and are listing choice real estate. The opening of the Dumbarton bridge is certain to boom land here next spring when values will soar.

It is to be regretted that the big flow of water in the San Francisco creek rushing on to the bay to be lost cannot be impounded and conserved for the summer months. There is enough water going to waste by this means that would, if conserved, supply all the irrigation demands of the county. Some day enterprising man will build a large reservoir and save this stream. Palo Alto and Menlo Park ought to form a water district and erect a big dam and hold this water for the vast population that will be here in the next few years. It should be done now before some big corporation grabs or rather steals, if you will, the water rights and then charge consumers an exorbitant rate.

The people ought to secure these rights given them by an Alameda and get the benefits as God intended they should.

On March 8 there will be held in Menlo Park an election for two trustees for the Menlo Park Sanitary District, one to serve for two years and the other for one year. Thus far no one has announced his candidacy. Timothy Hopkins is the president of the sanitary board and P. P. Byrne, secretary.

J. William Ryan, the local hardware man, has established a branch house at San Carlos, one of the rapidly growing towns of the state. Porter Heflin, an experienced hardware man of Fresno, is in charge of the new store.

Morey's Fire Eaters and a Menlo Park eleven will play on the St. Joseph gridiron tomorrow afternoon. The contest is to be a hard fought one that will draw a big crowd. The proceeds of the game will be given to the St. Joseph Alumni Fund. The captain of the Menlo Park team is Elmo Cornelison, the popular deputy postmaster, who is to introduce some new features and will be assisted by Jack Parsons, the Stanford coach. The game should draw a record crowd.

Fathers' night was observed by the Menlo Park P. T. A. held on their regular monthly meeting night, Feb. 12th. As this was also Lincoln's birthday the school was decorated with flags and flowers which were very attractive.

The business meeting was held first led by Mrs. J. T. Aabel, vice-president. Miss Meta Kusler, Girl Scout committee, asked that the parents get behind the Girl Scouts and help them along.

The Home Circle meets in the school and holds their meetings the third Thursday of the month. Mrs. Madge Ryan is chairman of the Home Circle.

The new cupboard is being built by J. L. Eisenstein, who is doing his work. If anyone has any dishes to donate for the new cupboard they will be greatly appreciated.

Five dollars was donated to the Boy Scout movement by the association. The program followed the business meeting. "America" by the audience; The Boy Scouts put on some of the stunts they have been learning, which were enjoyed very much; Vocal Solo, Mr. Terramorse "From the Land of the Sky Blue Water"—by Cadman; "Temple Bells," from the Indian Love Lyrics.

Talk by Walter Nichols, principal of the Palo Alto High School. In his talk, Mr. Nichols said that parents should get the boys' point of view, that boys live in world of their own. He said that a father and son can only be pals in a limited way, that a boy's best pal is a boy of his own age. He urged that fathers try to understand their sons in order to sympathize with them.

Solo—Mr. Terramorse "O Sole Mio" by Lapina. Candle lighting ceremony of the birthday cake in honor of Founders Day of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

P. T. A. exercise by Josephine Garland, Dicie Eisenstein and Helen History of the P. T. A. read by Mrs. F. S. Becker.

Edna Grill, an eighth grade girl, with highest average was given honor of lighting candles of the birthday cake. The meeting closed by singing of the P. T. A. song by audience. Social hour and refreshments followed.

Anna Peterson has commenced an action for an interlocutory decree of divorce against her husband, Roy Peterson, on the ground of extreme cruelty. The parties to the action were married at Oakland on November 14, 1924, and came to reside at Portola after their marriage. They have no children and no community property.

The citizens of Menlo Park are registering with some haste lately owing to the impending incorporation but there are many yet to get their name on the big book. All are urged to register at once.

The grammar school trustees election is to take place next month. It is understood there will be a number of candidates seek the coveted position without pay or honor but there are many who would like to serve the dear public without emoluments, expecting to secure their reward in the world to come.

Last Sunday afternoon the Santa Clara "Broncos" clashed with the Menlo "Midwesters" on the St. Joseph school gridiron. A large crowd of fans witnessed the contest which was one of the best played games seen this season in the local field. Both teams entered into the true spirit of the game and played hard and well to win laurels for their respective eleven which were evenly matched so that the game ended in a tie score, thirteen to thirteen. Honors were even but the boys are not satisfied with this and a return game is planned for the near future when the goal will again be sought and struggled for by the same players, nearly all of whom are students of the Santa Clara College High School.

After the contest the players with Father A. J. Cody, principal of the high school, assembled at the auditorium of St. Joseph's school where delectable refreshments were served and enjoyed by the boys whose keen appetites were sharpened by the vigorous exercise of the hard-fought contest. Father Cody in a nicely phrased address congratulated both teams for their splendid efforts and the gentlemanly way in which they conducted the contest.

Many responses were made by the young men who displayed much talent in their short speeches, showing the benefit of their elocutionary training at the well-known institution. Some of the ablest orators of the state have graduated from Santa Clara University, among whom may be mentioned, D. M. Delmas, James D. Phelan, J. J. Barrett and numerous others.

Mark Laughlin has sold his lot on Oak Grove avenue adjoining the home of James Hardgrove for $1000 to Mr. Baker. Mr. Laughlin immediately purchased the Hardgrove property on the same avenue but further down the thoroughfare for $2200. It is known as the old Bradley place, now occupied by Mrs. Draycott, who on the first of the week, will leave for her old home in New York to spend three months with relatives.

Thelma Morton, aged 25 and a native of Nebraska, passed away at the Palo Alto hospital after a brief illness from pneumonia. She resided for the past five years with her husband, Hamilton Morton, on Santa Cruz avenue. She was well liked and loved by all who knew her. The interment took place Monday at Mt. Olivet cemetery. Mrs. Morton is survived by a daughter 4 years old and her husband.

James G. Lees, a San Francisco letter carrier, has brought an action in the Superior court against the Market Street Railway Company to recover damages for personal injuries in the sum of $25,757.55. The complaint alleges that the plaintiff was struck by a car of the company on Flournoy avenue, Daly City, on December 24, 1925. His left heel bone was fractured, making him a cripple for life. Plaintiff alleges negligence on the part of the defendant, Sullivan, Sullivan & Roche are the attorneys for the plaintiff.
